1934 WORLD'S FAIR

TWO KINDS OF BUS SERVICE WITHIN THE GROUNDS

10¢

HI-SPEED BUS SERVICE

(Dotted Line on Map)

The Hi-Speed Bus System is divided into two parts, one operation serving the mainland, and the other the island. Mainland stops are indicated by numbers, island stops by letters of the alphabet.

Buses operate on highways closed to pedestrians and give quick, efficient service to all points.

The wisest thing to do at the Fair is to ride at every opportunity rather than walk. If you walk before every exhibit, you will have traveled the amazing distance of 82 miles. Ride between the buildings. Remember, you have invested a good sum in your World's Fair trip... why not save every possible bit of energy for complete enjoyment?

Sixty specially-designed Greyhound coaches cover the Fair completely, giving both Sight-seeing and Hi-Speed Bus service.

World's Fair Greyhound Lines is the only land transportation system within the Grounds. All automobiles and other vehicles are barred.

The first thing to do at the Fair is to get your bearings... especially if your time is limited and you want to make the most of it. Take a Greyhound Sight-seeing tour of the Fair Grounds first, then go back and see the exhibits in which you're interested. This is good advice even for those who saw the Fair last year, for there have been many changes.

Starting at the north entrance, the Greyhound sightseeing route travels right down the Main Promenade to the South entrance, doubling back on the same route to cross over to Northerly Island and then returning to the starting point.

Sight-seeing Tours pass every important building, exhibit, amusement and show in the Fair. Buses roll along about 5 miles per hour and a college lecturer explains unique features. Sight-seeing coaches are loaded to seating capacity only. Tours last about an hour and are operated every day, except when unusually large afternoon and evening crowds make it physically impossible. Come early for a Sight-seeing Tour, the best introduction you could possibly have to the greatest World's Fair in history.

A trip around the World!

The 1934 Exposition features fifteen villages, fourteen of them representing distinct foreign countries. Among them, one of the most interesting because of the originality and authenticity of its exhibits is the old Spanish village. Spain in all its glory will be reproduced with castles, cathedrals, castanets and gay music. Spicy food and spicy entertainment is promised and 31 Senoritas have been brought over from Madrid.

Greyhound to and from the Fair . . . Greyhound on the Grounds

Greyhound Lines serve nearly every city and town in America, on 50,000 miles of scenic highway routes. Lowest fares everywhere. Chicago Union Bus Terminal only two blocks from Exposition Grounds—see map.
